

Zahira Grimwood joined My Vote Counts as a researcher on the South African political system in January 2018. She completed a B.A. Humanities, majoring in Political Science and History in 2013, and she completed an Honours in History in 2014 at the University of Stellenbosch. In 2017, she completed an MA in International Relations at the University of Cape Town (UCT). In 2016, she was awarded the Erasmus Mundus Scholarship programme to undertake a 10 month long exchange programme at the University of Duisburg-Essen (UdE) in Development and upgraded it to a Masters programme, receiving her MA in Development & Governance in November 2017. Zahira has worked at South African History Online (SAHO) as a junior researcher in 2015. In 2015, she tutored politics to undergraduate students at UCT. She has also worked at Parliamentary Monitoring Group (PMG) as a monitor in 2017.