

Sheilan Clarke has close to 10 years media and advocacy experience. This experience includes doing community engagement events on various campaigns and topics countrywide, mainstream media and advocating for policy in Parliament.

Currently she is the Communications Officer for lobby group, My Vote Counts.